AGILE TOUR BRUSSELS 2021

PROGRAMME

Conference Room A		Conference Room A		Workshops
09:00 to 09:50 Ralph van Roosmalen Art of Teams Successful teams have clarity, care about the results, understand their impact, have valuable conflicts, experience trust, and are reliable. In this talk, Ralph will describe why the components are essential and how to implement and also share tools and practices. Based on the book Art of Teams. AIRMEET
10:00 to 10:50 Ysaline Vranken Agile Coaching: my NLP toolbox Is there a single coaching method? Should we limit ourselves to the proposed frameworks? Although these frameworks are great tools, I am convinced that there are many possible methods and approaches to coaching and leading human groups. AIRMEET				10:00 to 11:30 ZOOM Adelina Stefan & Frederik Vannieuwenhuyse Intro to Personal Agility What really matters to you in life? How do you spend your time? Personal Agility is a framework to start identifying what really matters and aligning your activities to your purpose. This session is a workshop to explain the core concepts and to get started. We will use breakout rooms. ZOOM
11:00 to 11:50 Luca Minudel Human Complexity: Predictably unpredictable software development This session presents a landscape of practices inspired by Human-Complexity that can be employed in everyday software and digital products development. And present a new approach that consists of acting our way into the new Human-Complexity thinking. AIRMEET		11:00 to 11:50 Cliff Hazell Beyond Copy Paste Agile In this session, I will draw in my experiences as a Manager, Product Lead, and Coach designing effective organisations at Spotify. To demonstrate how the three lenses of Systems, Science and Sapiens, help gather broader perspective, ultimately leading to a more effective, longer-lasting, impact. AIRMEET
13:00 to 13:50 Michael Nir Liberate Your Remote Team to High Performance; How to revolutionize teams employing liberating structures to produce awesome results? Do you know how to empower remote team communication to capture room intelligence? Or are your remote interactions basic, excruciating and lack results? Join me as we discover, explore, and experience a world of unexpected engagement, collaboration and guaranteed high performance team results. ZOOM		13:00 to 13:50 Yves Hanoulle Tips from the agile trenches We are uncovering better ways of developing software by doing it and helping others do it. This presentation is about helping others, and contains tips I collected from people in the trenches, aka people who are doing it. AIRMEET		13:00 to 14:30 ZOOM Koen Vastmans Build-Run-Improve-Repeat - How a game can help you learn about DevOps Imagine an organization working agile, but time to market is still too long. Management thinks DevOps can help, though. A CI/CD pipeline is what this organization needs, right? Can they really afford to do the wrong investments? Or should they prefer the safe environment of a simulation instead? Beware, only 7 particpants will play the simulation, while others will observe ZOOM
14:00 to 14:50 John Behrens The clash between Agile, DevOps and Quality Assurance While the DevOps is a relatively new approach, quality assurance and testing are a well-known discipline inside software projects and how they affected the Agile process. I will share experience of 5 projects. And help to understand how DevOps, QA and Agile approaches interact together. AIRMEET		14:00 to 14:50 Soledad Pinter & Sheetal Thaker How agile are you? Enhacing an Agile World with the Heart of Agile assessment Heart of Agile and Agile World have teamed up to bring you a new kind of company assessment to help you adapt the way you work. Focus on 4 pillars:Collaborate,Delivery,Reflect and Improve, and driven by the HOA Compass. Join us and return to work with strong tools to help you lead the agile way. AIRMEET
15:00 to 15:50 Gino Marckx Measuring outcomes ... or how to get meaningful metrics Many teams still depend on velocity in an aim to understand their team's progress, unfortunately often driving the wrong behaviours. This session teaches a practical and easy way to get meaningful data that drives the correct behaviour. AIRMEET		15:00 to 15:50 Bianca Griffioen Change but start with what you do now Like it or not, people resist to change. It's hard-wired in our brain. The bigger the change, the greater the resistance. In order to change, the gain must be higher than the loss. Or change must be so small it doesn't feel like change: Start With What You Do Now. AIRMEET
16:00 to 16:50 Artur Margonari Finding the Sweeet Spot Individuals and interactions, working software, customer collaboration, responding to change… If you are familiar with the agile manifesto, you know that these values are on the left side, which we value more. But what about the values on the right? What's would be the sweet spot between them? AIRMEET		16:00 to 16:50 Sharon Steed Creating Cultures of Empathy Nothing's more valuable than our ability to work well together. The key to successful collaboration? Empathy. But few people know how to be empathetic, especially at work. Let's learn together. This talk explores empathy's impact in the office and how empathetic communication fosters collaboration. AIRMEET
17:00 to 17:50 Mun-Wai Chung & JF Unson Boldly go where other generations have not gone before Do you know how many generations are in your workplace today? Do you feel that each generation is incentivized differently? So, how can any company have a reward and recognition system that satisfies all? And how does Agile play into it? Come to our talk and learn from our real-life transformations. AIRMEET
18:00 to 18:50 Amber Vanderburg Cultivating a Culture of Creativity, Collaboration, and Captainship! High energy chat highlighting how to effectively increase team performance, transform org. culture, and build meaningful legacies through collaborative ownership. Attendees will learn to increase creativity through ownership, improve collaboration through teams, and captainship through character. AIRMEET		18:00 to 18:50 Jenn Donahue Take off your Camouflage: Overcoming Imposter Syndrome and Tokenism to Just be Yourself My whole career, I've typically been the only woman in the room. I didn't wanted to be the token female, but as I looked around, I wondered if I truly belonged. I developed camouflage so that I could fit in with my male-counterparts. When is the best time to shed the camo and be ourselves? AIRMEET
